

2018 Dragonfly Shiraz

92 points, Campbell Mattinson

Willow Bridge is always a good place to go hunting for value.

This has good heft, shape and length. Not bad for $22. It tastes of leather and red cherry, liquid smoke and toast, with a smidgen of reduction and perhaps peppercorn. It remains bright and controlled despite the array and amount of flavour. It suggests at savouriness. It's a no-brainer in my books
